Chapter 1 by Feyre Archeron

My family isn't the perfect family everyone dreams of but its my family. My family means everything to me. My friends are my family. You don't have to be blood related to be apart of my family.

I have family all around the world. Like for an example, the kids I help support in South Africa, they are my family. I love my family so much. I would do anything for my family.

My best friends are a big chunk of my family tree. With out my friends, there would be a big chunk of my family tree missing. It wouldn't fell right with out my friends.

My family is the most important thing in my life. Without them I would probably be a blob on the ground suffering from difficulties, deformities, and a lot of problems.
